How To Love: The love lesson that you will never stop using or forget till you die! Alagba Chisom

You know, whenever you see a house, you know what it stands for and what it does, but I don't think you have pursued one day and think about the root of all houses, what caused them to be houses, the real meaning of that particular name called "House," and the effect it has on each building called house? Well I don't know if you have done that, but I have done mine and saw that it was because of that name called "house, and its meanings" that makes houses to protect and shelter people, sure. That name called "house" gives each building their patterns and what it does, and that they do whenever you enter them, you feel at rest and covered, that is what the meaning of that name gave them, names have powers, keep coming, you will understand what I mean at the end. So because of the meaning of that name called "house," it carries the spirit of rest and feelings of being covered into those buildings and makes them do that to human beings whenever they enter them, that is why when anybody enters a house, they receive such reward as covered and in peace, is mysterious, but some of us don't understand that, but it is true and is our desire that caused such spirit to fall on those buildings while building the house, sure. And that is why we get what we get after building them. It is called "the power of names and its meanings," very wonderful! (Don't worry, I will tell you what this has to do with love, keep coming!) Now that is how powerful names and its meanings are, names are very powerful, is like a goal that when you set it, it controls all your actions, that is what names do, it controls things.
