Catholic Stories for Children: Best Friends Forever (My First Holy Communion) Anne Joachim

Emma and Olivia are BFFs. That means Best Friends Forever. But Emma soon realises that she is leaving out Hannah, a new girl in her class. When Mrs Blakey sends Hannah to Crafts club to try and make her feel more welcome, Hannah sets a new trend which starts all the school talking about the Rosary. A Catholic story, suitable for children of all ages, but particularly for those of around seven years who are preparing for First Holy Communion. Suitable for parents to read to children, for catechists to use as a discussion point, and with simple enough language for children to read themselves. Children will learn that Jesus is their best friend and loves them very much. They will also learn that the Rosary is a prayer which helps people think about the things which happened in Jesus' life.
